ARTHUR B. McBRIDE, Owner

Everything considered, Arthur B. McBride probably can be termed the most unusual owner in the major professional football leagues.

With him a championship team comes under the heading of civic duty. This obligation to the community even supercedes personal pride, of which he blandly admits he has plenty.

And, concerning financial success, McBride expects to reap none from his sponsorship of the Browns in the All-America Football Conference. He claims he'll be content to break even on the venture as long as the spectators leave each game tingling with thrills and nursing the satisfaction that they got their money's worth.

McBride, like thousands of other members of the "Subway Alumni" of Notre Dame, became interested in football by following the fortunes of the Fighting Irish.

He sent his two sons—Arthur Jr. and Edward—to South Bend and, although he didn't know a touchdown from a shoulder pad, the senior McBride made it his business to be on hand to cheer the Notre Dame teams wherever they played.

In 1941, a little more than a year after he became so fond of the gridiron sport, McBride attempted to purchase the Cleveland Rams from Danny Reeves but was turned down.

McBride's determination to own a football team grew in 1943 when the Rams suspended operations because of wartime conditions. By that time he had become a rabid follower of the play-for-pay gridders. When the Rams halted operations, he was annoyed at being deprived of his favorite local sports attraction.

When the Cleveland franchise in the All-America Conference was available in 1944, McBride was in a receptive mood. There had always been rumors that the Rams some day might leave Cleveland and he wanted to assure himself and the city's gridiron fans that they would have a pro football representative.

His first act after acquiring the franchise was to sign Paul Brown as general manager and coach. Why did he go after the youthful ex-Ohio State and Great Lakes mentor? "I believed that Paul Brown was the best coach in the business. Moreover, I knew that he had tremendous popularity throughout Ohio. Whenever I go into any business, I want the best. Even if I only own a peanut stand, my stand has to be better than that of the man across the street."

This policy of aspiring to excel his competitors and to tackle impossible tasks has paid off handsomely to the ex-Chicagoan who was selling newspapers at the age of six and earning $10,000 as a newspaper circulation executive 17 years later.

In 1913 McBride moved to Cleveland as circulation director of the Cleveland News where he remained until 1931 when he went into business for himself. Since then he has purchased large real estate holdings in Cleveland as well as in Chicago, Miami and Coral Gables, has become co-owner with Dan Sherby of the taxicabs in Cleveland and Akron, and has numerous other business interests.

Besides his two sons, the Browns' owner also has a daughter, Jane. McBride's athletic endeavor is confined to golf, shooting consistently in the low 80's.

PAUL E. BROWN, Coach & General Manager

Having completed a coaching grand slam with championship teams in his first two years of professional football, Paul Brown now hopes to continue to build up in Cleveland the grid dynasty that he set as his goal when he first came into the pro ranks.

Brown wants his Cleveland football eleven to be to professional football what the New York Yankees have been to pro baseball over the years. He refuses to ascribe to the theory that Cleveland's continued supremacy in the All-America Conference would be bad for the league. "I am primarily a football teacher, not a professional promoter," he has said repeatedly. "If we win before 10,000 fans, that's swell. If we lose before 80,000, that's awful."

Those who have followed the fortunes of Brown at Massillon High School, then at Ohio State, later at Great Lakes and currently with the Browns are certain he was not enjoying "beginner's luck" the past two years when he moulded a mixture of professional veterans and inexperienced college kids into one of the best-balanced clubs in the major leagues.

The Brown technique and philosophy are now thoroughly familiar to anybody who has watched his teams in action. Even in the pro ranks they reflect a definite touch of amateurism and that's as Brown wishes.

He insists that they give it the old college try every minute they are on the field. Fierce desire is no mere figure of speech when Brown's the coach. His athletes are well-groomed in fundamentals. They look like athletes and they are fast. In other words, they have that "lean and hungry" appearance, to borrow a Brownism.

Brown, a lean and hungry looking hombre himself, was born in Norwalk, Ohio, on September 7, 1908, but his family moved to Massillon when he was 12. In high school he quarterbacked the team for two years in a row although he never weighed more than 120 pounds. He enrolled at Ohio State University, but when he realized his weight might eliminate him from Big Ten competition, he transferred to Miami University. There he was the regular signal caller for two years—an above average passer and a good runner.

After graduating from Miami, Brown coached for two years at Severn Prep, a preparatory school for the U. S. Naval Academy. One of his proteges there was the famous Slade Cutter of Navy.

In 1932, Brown returned to Massillon as the high school football and basketball coach. The Tigers had been in the athletic doldrums but Brown produced a good team in his first season, winning six, losing three and tying one. Next year Massillon won eight and dropped two and in 1934 it won all but one of 10 contests. During the next six years Brown's teams played 60 games, winning 58, dropping one and tying one. They annexed six straight state championships. In Brown's nine seasons at Massillon, the Tigers scored 3,202 points to their opponents' 339. The 1940 Massillon machine, judged by Brown to be his best there, tallied 477 points to the enemy's six.

When Brown first came to Massillon, the capacity of the school's stadium was 5,000. In 1938 a new stadium seating 21,000 was erected and wasn't large enough. In 1940 Massillon played before 175,000 fans including 161,000 at eight home contests. Annually Massillon outdraws every college in the state with the exception of Ohio State.

Following a vigorous campaign by the Ohio State high school coaches' association, Brown was signed as the Ohio State mentor in 1941, replacing Francis Schmidt. In his first season the Buckeyes won six, lost one and tied one. In 1942, the Bucks were acclaimed Big Ten and national collegiate kings as they compiled a record of nine victories and one loss. The 1943 squad, which could have been one of the mightiest grid machines in college history, was wrecked when all the 1942 stars and a great freshman roster were called into the armed services. Playing against teams which were loaded with naval trainees, the 1943 Buckeyes gave Brown his first and only losing season as a coach.

In 1944 Brown himself enlisted in the Navy. He was commissioned a lieutenant and appointed athletic officer at Great Lakes where he coached football. His 1944 Sailors won nine, lost two and tied one. The 1945 outfit, loaded with green youngsters, got off to a bad start, losing three and tying one in its first four starts. However, the team under Brown's guidance came along nicely to win its last six in a row including a 39 to 7 victory over Notre Dame for 1945's greatest grid upset. Brown is married and has three sons —Robin, Mike and Pete.

JOHN L. BRICKELS, Backfield Coach

Sooner or later John Brickels and Paul Brown were destined to wind up on the same side. First during their college days when Brickels starred for Wittenberg and Brown spearheaded the Miami University football team and later when Brickel's New Philadelphia High School elevens were opposing Brown's Massillon juggernauts there developed a mutual respect and friendship between the two men.

Brickels did much of the leg work during the Cleveland club's early days when Brown and other members of the coaching corps were still in the Navy. He travelled about the country contacting players designated by Brown. Now he does most of the club's scouting and is in charge of hunting player talent.

Brickels, familiarly referred to as "Stub" by his friends, was born in Newark, Ohio on April 6, 1907. He was a four letter man in high school, participating in football, baseball, basketball and track. At Wittenberg College, where he enrolled in 1926, he was one of the best all-around athletes in the school's history. In his first season he returned kicks 55 and 95 yards to score touchdowns that beat Brown's Miami team, 23 to 0. The following season Brown hurled two touchdown passes that downed Brickels' Wittenberg team.

Following his graduation from Wittenberg, Brickels went to New Philadelphia High School as assistant football and basketball mentor. In 1932 he was appointed head coach in both sports, a post he held until 1938. In 1934 his Quaker football team had a perfect season and laid claim to the state scholastic title. From 1934 through 1937 his gridders won 36 out of 40 contests. His 1938 basketball team dropped the state championship to Newark by one point in the finals.

From New Philadelphia, Brickels moved to Huntington (West Va.) High School where he remained through the spring of 1944. During his six years at Huntington his basketball teams reached the state tournament four times, gained the finals twice and annexed the championship in 1944.

As a result of his success at Huntington, Brickels was chosen head basketball and assistant football coach at the University of West Virginia in 1944. He is credited with molding the Mountaineer cagers into the unit that was one of the nation's best for the past two seasons. In April, 1945 he took up his duties with the Browns. He is married and has two children, a son Bo, and a daughter, Becky.

BLANTON COLLIER, Backfield Coach

From Paris (Ky.) High School comes Blanton Collier whose technical knowledge of football made a profound impression on Paul Brown in 1945 when Collier was on his staff at Great Lakes. The quiet-mannered Kentuckian is a keen football student who takes the game seriously and who is a good diagnostician. He is credited with devising many of the pass defense patterns which made the Browns tough to gain on through the air.

Collier was born in Millersburg, Ky. on July 2, 1906 and starred at Georgetown (Ky.) College. He went to Paris High School directly from college and served as athletic director and football and basketball coach for 16 years before enlisting in the Navy in 1943. During that period his Paris football teams won three conference championships and his cagers annexed seven league crowns.

Although Collier had accepted a post on the coaching staff of one of the nation's large universities after his release from the Navy, Brown persuaded him to cast his lot with him in the pro league. Collier is married and the father of three daughters, Carolyn, Kay and Jane.

WILLIAM M. EDWARDS, Tackle Coach

When Big Bill Edwards was discharged by the Navy in December, 1945, he decided to give up the hectic career of a football coach for the more placid life of a sporting goods salesman.

But one season away from the gridiron was about all that Bill could stand and when Paul Brown asked him to join the Cleveland Browns following Bob Voigts' resignation to go to Northwestern, it didn't take Bill very long to say "yes".

Born in Massillon, Ohio on June 21, 1905, Edwards and Brown played high school football together and then enrolled at Ohio State where they were roommates. Both left Columbus after a short while, Brown going to Miami and Edwards to Wittenberg College.

At Wittenberg Edwards developed into an All-Ohio lineman, being chosen on all of the honor teams in each of his three seasons there. It has been generally agreed in Ohio College circles that Edwards would have been an All-America had he remained at Ohio State. One of his college teammates was John Brickels, now the Browns' backfield mentor.

After leaving Wittenberg, Edwards coached at Springfield and Fostoria High Schools until 1934 when the late Sam Willaman appointed him his aide at Western Reserve University. The following year, when Willaman died, Edwards was chosen head coach by the Red Cats who, under his tutelage, entered into one of their most successful eras. From 1935 through 1940, Edwards' teams won 49 games, lost six and tied two. In three of those seasons they boasted perfect marks and on January 1, 1941 Reserve beat Arizona State Teachers in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, 28-13.

In 1941, Edwards was selected to coach the Detroit Lions of the National Football League. The following year he enlisted in the Navy and coached for two seasons at St. Mary's Pre-Flight, tutoring such stars as Frankie Albert, Parker Hall, John Woudenberg, Bob Titchenal and Dale Gentry. In 1944 Edwards was transferred to the Pensacola Naval Station where he remained until his discharge. Edwards is married and the father of three children, Bill, Mary and Jane.

RICHARD F. GALLAGHER, End Coach

Newest member of the Browns' coaching staff is Dick Gallagher who replaced Red Conkright as tutor of the team's brilliant array of wingmen in 1947. Gallagher came to the Browns from William and Mary College where he was head basketball and baseball mentor and an assistant in football. He is a native of Ironton, Ohio where he was born on October 28, 1909. After starring in three sports there—football, basketball and track—he went on to athletic stardom at Kentucky Wesleyan College.

After graduating from College, Gallagher coached for two years at Pedro (O.) High School and then returned to Ironton as head football and basketball coach in 1933. During his seven year tenure at Ironton, he became a good friend of Paul Brown and John Brickels who were high school coaching contemporaries although their teams never opposed Gallagher's.

In 1940 Gallagher accepted a coaching post at William and Mary as an assistant in football basketball and baseball. He enlisted in the Navy in 1942 and was discharged as a lieutenant commander in 1945. Following his return to William and Mary he was elevated to head coach in baseball and basketball. Gallagher is married and the father of two daughters, Kay and Patricia.

FRITZ HEISLER, Guard Coach

When Paul Brown greeted his first squad of candidates at Massillon High School in the autumn of 1932, a 135-pound youngster named Fritz Heisler was trying out for the team. The boy clinched a first string berth on that club and was a regular on the 1933 eleven which was the first of Massillon's super teams.

Heisler, born in Massillon on May 18, 1915, had known Brown long before he reached high school. When Brown was quarterbacking Massillon's football team, Heisler as a grade school pupil used to watch the team's practice sessions daily. Always interested in the technical phases of the game, Heisler used to ask Brown all sorts of questions about football.

From Massillon, Heisler went to Miami University where he won three football letters. Although weighing but 155 pounds, he held down a guard position and was chosen on several of the All-Ohio squads. At Miami, Heisler majored in physical education with the view of coaching.

Immediately after Heisler graduated in 1938, he was signed as a coaching assistant by Brown, then still at Massillon. When Brown moved to Ohio State in 1941, he took Heisler along as freshman football coach. On the Buckeyes' 1942 national championship team were such outstanding performers as Bill Hackett, Bill Willis, Tom James, Gene Fekete and others who had been freshmen under Heisler the previous season.

In March, 1942 Heisler was commissioned an ensign in the Navy. He coached at DePauw University in 1943 where he was stationed with the Navy's V-5 Cadet Unit. Heisler joined the Browns in January, 1946 following his discharge from the Navy as a full lieutenant. Married, he has one son, Bryan.

Player Biographies

ADAMLE, TONY — FULLBACK

Born in Fairmont, W. Va. May 15, 1924. Played football at Collinwood High School in Cleveland where he won All-State and All-City honors. Was a fullback in high school and during his freshman year at Ohio State. Served in the Army Air Forces more than three and a half years and returned to Ohio State in 1946 when he was used at center. Started each of the Buckeye's 1946 games and played 413 minutes during the season. Intercepted two passes that helped Ohio whip Northwestern, 39-27.

Decided to pass up further college football to play pro ball early in 1947, but is continuing his studies toward his degree at Ohio State during the off season. Is married and lives in Columbus, Ohio.

Coach Paul Brown, mindful of Adamle's speed, decided to return him to the fullback position when he reported to the Browns' training camp in 1947. Was a member of the College All-Star Squad which whipped the Chicago Bears, 16-0, last year. Served as a very capable replacement for Marion Motley during the 1947 season, and gained much experience that should make him a more valuable player this year.

ADAMS, CHESTER (Chet) — TACKLE

Born in Cleveland, Ohio, October 24, 1916. After winning All-Scholastic honors at South High School in Cleveland, Adams played football under Don Peden at Ohio University for three years. Made first team All-Ohio tackle in 1937 and again in 1938. The 1938 Bobcats upset Illinois, 6-0. Played with ex-Cleveland Rams from 1939 through 1942 and with Green Bay Packers in 1943 when Rams did not field a team. With Green Bay, Adams was selected on the All-Pro team. Entered the Army in February, 1944, as private and was discharged as first lieutenant in June, 1946. Served in the Corps of Military Police.

When Rams moved their franchise to Los Angeles, Adams chose to join the Browns and finish his football career in native city. Got biggest thrills in football in 1946 by scoring two touchdowns, one when he recovered a fumble against Buffalo which he returned for a touchdown, and the other in the final game of the season against Brooklyn when he intercepted a Dodger pass near the goal line and scored. Is a fine defensive tackle and played his best game in 1947 in the championship game against the New York Yankees.

Plans to enter coaching profession. Spent last two winters showing Cleveland Browns' promotional film in Cleveland and northern Ohio where he did a splendid job for the club. Is married and lives in Cleveland with wife and son, Chester William.

AGASE, ALEX — GUARD

Born March 27, 1922 in Chicago, Ill. Starred for Evanston (Ill.) Township High School before entering the University of Illinois in 1941. Is one of the few players in collegiate history to have been picked on the All-America team for three years. Was selected in 1942 and 1946 while at Illinois and in 1943 at Purdue where he was a marine trainee. Captained the Illini in 1946 when they annexed the Big Nine championship and humiliated U.C.L.A. in the Rose Bowl contest. Has been voted by Illinois alumni and newspapermen as the greatest lineman in Illinois history. Had his nose broken four times while playing college football. Served in the Marine Corps for three years and led the extreme right flank platoon in the invasion of Okinawa. Played very well for the Chicago Rockets in 1947. Was secured by the Browns via the trade route in May of this year. The Browns sent halfback Bill Lund and rookie guard Joe Signaigo to the Rockets for Agase and tackle Forrest Grigg. Agase is single and lives in Evanston.

BOEDEKER, WILLIAM (Bill) — HALFBACK

Born in Milwaukee, Wis., March 7, 1924. Acquired by the Browns early in 1947 in a trade with the Chicago Rockets which sent John Harrington to the Chicago team. Attended DePaul University for a brief spell before enlisting in the Army Infantry, where he served with distinction for almost three years. Was awarded the Bronze Star and Purple Heart.

Although he never has played college football, Boedeker displayed great running ability in his two years of professional football and seems destined for stardom. In 1946 he got his first great football thrill by scoring in the final 60 seconds against the New York Yankees to give his mates a 17-17 tie with their favored opponent. Last year he picked up the slack during the time that Edgar Jones was shelved with a fractured hand, and displayed some fine running against the better teams in the Conference. Carried the ball 31 times and gained 194 yards for a fine average of 6.26 yards per carry. Set some sort of record early in the 1947 season when he scored three touchdowns on his first four plays from rushing. Took a pass from Otto Graham in the second period to score Cleveland's first touchdown that started his mates on their gallant comeback against the Yankees in their 28-28 thriller in New York last year. Is finishing up his education at DePaul University between football seasons. Is single and makes his home in Fort Wayne.

After his discharge in 1946, Brugge returned to Ohio State and played with the Buckeyes in 1946 and 1947. Was inactive much of last season because of a leg injury. Is a speedster who should make a serious bid for a job at right halfback with the Browns. Was drafted by the Buffalo Bills in the 1948 player draft before Cleveland could get him. Paul Brown, however, acquired him by sending the contract of Jeff Durkota, Cleveland's first draft selection, to Buffalo for the rights to Brugge. Father was killed in mining accident. Wears a perpetual grin which has won him many nicknames including "Gunner", "Li'l Abner" and "Joe Palooka".

At contract signing time early in 1947 after Gatski's first season in pro football, Coach Paul Brown asked him, "How much money do you think you ought to get this season, Frank?" Gatski replied in his rather slow drawl, "I'm not too worried about how much money I make, but I sure want to play a lot more football than I did last season." Brown replied, "Well that's entirely up to you, Frank." Gatski took Brown seriously, and by mid-season he was the team's regular offensive center and is expected to fill the void created by Mike Scarry's retirement from football. Single, Gatski lives in Grant Town, West Virginia.

GILLOM, HORACE (Horse) — END

One of the greatest all-around athletes in Ohio scholastic history, Gillom played for Paul Brown at Massillon High School in 1939 and 1940 and has been described by Brown as "the greatest high school player I ever coached." Gillom's running and kicking feats are still legendary in the Stark County area which was the cradle of professional football. Won three football letters and three basketball awards. In basketball as in football, Gillom was an All-State performer.

Enrolled at Ohio State after high school graduation but never played football there as he entered the Army in 1942. Served in the European theatre and won three Bronze Stars. After his discharge in 1945 he enrolled at the University of Nevada and played there in 1946. Gillom's long distance punting, his great pass receiving and fine defensive play with Nevada gained him the plaudits of opposing coaches as well as west coast sports writers. He was one of the leading collegiate punters of the nation in 1946.

When he decided to leave school in 1946 in order to support his family, he contacted Brown and asked for a contract, although several other pro clubs had been angling for his services. Twice he has been chosen for the All-Conference Team and at the conclusion of the 1947 season he was voted the Most Valuable Player in the All-America Conference in a poll of the coaches. He not only is a fine offensive player, but is used on defense as safety man much of the time.

Holds most of the individual passing marks of the All-America Conference for efficiency, and in 1946 established a pro record when he had but five of his passes intercepted. Tossed touchdown passes in eight straight games last year. Attempted 91 passes without an interception for another record. Following is his two-year passing record:

	Passes Attempted	Passes Completed	Had Intercepted	Yards Gained	Touchdown Passes	Pct. Completed
1946	174	95	5	1,834	17	.546
1947	269	163	11	2,753	25	.606
TOTAL	443	258	16	4,587	42	.582

An all state performer at Waukegan High School, Graham went on to stardom at Northwestern where he became an All-America football player and one of the best all-around athletes in the history of the Evanston institution. With the Wildcats he was a triple threat performer whose feats in 1943 gained him the Chicago Tribune trophy as the most valuable player in the Western Conference. Established a new conference passing mark in 1942 with 89 successful passes. Against Michigan that season he completed 20 out of 29 aerials. His three year mark at Northwestern was 157 completions out of 321 attempts. He also won All-America honors as a basketball performer at Northwestern. Graham twice has played with the College All-Stars in the Chicago Tribune's annual classic and in both of these contests he paced the Collegians to surprise victories over the pros. In the 1943 game, when the Collegians whipped the Washington Redskins, 27 to 7, Graham returned an intercepted pass for 95 yards and a touchdown, and also blocked out two men to shake teammate Bob Steuber loose on a 50 yard punt return for another touchdown. Against the Los Angeles Rams in 1946, Graham passed to Elroy Hirsch for a touchdown in the College All Stars' surprise 16 to 0 triumph. While stationed by the Navy at North Carolina Pre-Flight, Graham played football with the Pre-Flight eleven and led his mates to a 21 to 14 upset over Navy in 1944.

Grigg kept in shape during the off season by operating an ice route in Longview where he resides with his parents. Is single.

GROZA, LOUIS R. (The Toe) — TACKLE

Born in Martins Ferry, Ohio on January 25, 1924. In 1946, his first season of professional football, this husky lineman who never played collegiate football, broke two all-time pro football place kicking records, and led the All-America Conference in scoring. His 13 field goals that season excelled the old mark of 10 which had been established by Jack Manders of the Chicago Bears in 1934, and his 45 points after touchdown cracked the old record of 39 established by Bob Snyder of the Bears in 1943. Both of Groza's marks were cracked in 1947 when Ben Agajanian of Los Angeles booted 15 field goals, and Harvey Johnson of the New York Yankees kicked 49 extra points. Was handicapped during the last half of the 1947 season by leg injuries which kept him on the bench for several games. However, in Cleveland's last two games of the year, he was used as left offensive tackle because of injuries to Ernie Blandin, and displayed fine promise as a lineman. It is expected with the departure of Blandin to the Baltimore Colts, that Groza may be the team's No. 1 offensive left tackle in addition to handling all of the place kicking. His booming kickoffs which usually land in the enemy end zone or beyond are among the Cleveland club's most potent weapons.

Lou has two strong ambitions for the 1948 season. He wants to prove himself a good tackle, an opportunity which he is bound to have. Secondly, he wants to regain the place kicking title which injuries forced him to relinquish last season.

"The Toe" played left tackle for three years at Martins Ferry High School. An older brother first brought out his kicking talent on a miniature gridiron in the family's back yard. Lou earned 10 high school letters, three each in football and basketball and four in baseball. Served as captain of each team in senior year. Selected on All-Valley team twice, in 1940 and 1941. Chosen All-State tackle in 1941. Co-Captain in Ohio-West Virginia All-Star Game, 1941. Named All-Ohio in basketball also in 1941, in which year he was selected as most valuable player on the state championship team.

Entered Ohio State and won a freshman letter before entering the Army. In service three years, spending five months on Okinawa, two in Hawaii and six in the Philippines. Only service sports participation was a year on the 96th Division basketball team. However, Groza kept in shape in the South Pacific by having some buddies erect a goal post and by practicing place kicking during his few leisure hours. After leaving the Army, Groza chose to return to Ohio State to complete work toward his degree, but also decided to forsake college football for the pro variety. Attends Ohio State University in the off-season, and hopes to finish up his schooling after the present football year. Is a brother of Alex Groza, star center for the University of Kentucky basketball team. Is single and resides in Martins Ferry.

That 1940 Massillon club was Brown's finest scholastic eleven. James followed Brown to Ohio State and played on the 1942 Buckeye squad that won the Western Conference and national championships. Served for more than three years in the Army including the invasion of Okinawa prior to returning to Ohio State in 1946. Last year he played for the Detroit Lions of the National Football League, but broke his arm in an early season contest and was inactive thereafter. Is married and lives in Massillon.

In 1947, he scored Cleveland's second touchdown of the game against the Yankees. In the summer of 1947 he was the top pitcher on the Cleveland sandlots, and his work earned him a trial with the Cleveland Indians. Is married and makes his home in Cleveland.

JONES, WILLIAM (Dub) HALFBACK

The previous season he was with the Miami Seahawks. Played for the state championship team at Ruston (La.) High School in 1941 and was chosen on the All-State honor eleven. Served in the Navy for three years as a fireman aboard a submarine. Played left halfback for Miami and tailback in Brook-

LAHR, WARREN (Warnie) — HALFBACK

Born in Mt. Zion, Pa. September 5, 1923. At West Wyoming (Pa.) High School, Lahr was on the football, basketball and track teams. Served in the Navy for two and a half years. One of his greatest football thrills came in the spring of 1942 when Western Reserve was playing the University of Detroit in a practice affair. Lahr, in what was really his first college test, ran wild against a favored Detroit eleven and scored two touchdowns that netted his mates a 12-12 deadlock. For Reserve, Lahr was a hard runner, the Red Cats' chief offensive threat for the three years he was there. Born in Hudson, Ohio February 23, 1923. Although he had played in but three college games prior to joining the Browns in 1946, and having come to training camp as one of the less heralded rookies, Lavelli has developed into one of the outstanding players in the All America Conference. In 1946 he was the leading receiver of the Conference, and last year he finished second to his "Touchdown Twin", Mac Speedie. Twice he has been chosen on the official All-Conference team. In 1946 he took a pass from Otto Graham in the last few minutes to score the winning touchdown as Cleveland downed New York, 14 to 9, for the Conference championship. He has great speed in the open and fine deception in eluding pass defenders. Set a record for the most points scored in one game by a Brown when he scored three touchdowns against San Francisco in Cleveland last fall. His two-year pass receiving record follows:

	Passes Received	Yards Gained	Touchdown Passes
1946	40	843	8

Previously that season he had tossed the winning touchdown pass as Duke downed unbeaten Georgia Tech, 19-13. Lewis played that game with his right elbow in a special brace as the result of an injury in the Penn game.

In 1945 Lewis was understudy to Charley O'Rourke at quarterback post with Fleet City, national service champion. Played in the same backfield with Harry Hopp, Buddy Young and Andy Uram. Figured in the first touchdown scored in the All-America Conference when he completed a pass to Mac Speedie in the end zone in the first few minutes of Cleveland's 1946 opener against Miami. When injuries toward the latter part of the 1947 season thinned the Browns at defensive right halfback, Lewis was used in the championship contest against the New York Yankees and filled that position very well. He is also a very capable punt returner. He, his wife and daughter Gayle reside in Bay Village, a suburb of Cleveland.

Motley's high school coach, Jimmy Aiken, brought him to University of Nevada where he captained the football team and won All-America honorable mention. Entered the Navy and played for Brown at Great Lakes. Sparked the Sailors to their surprise 39 to 7 decision over Notre Dame in final game of 1945 season.

His hard running, especially on Cleveland's famed 32-Trap play, is one of the reasons for the Browns' success the past two years. His success in bursting into the clear on the trap play has caused many experts to refer to that particular play as the Browns' "bread-and-butter" play. Twice he has been chosen as fullback on the official All-Conference team. His two-year ball carrying record is as follows:

	No. of Attempts	Yardage Gained	Average Yardage per Try	Touchdowns
1946	73	601	8.23	6
1947	146	889	6.09	10
TOTAL	219	1490	6.80	16

Has been at his best in both of Cleveland's playoff contests against the New York Yankees. In 1946 he scored Cleveland's first touchdown against the Yankees, and last year he set up both of his team's touchdowns against New York with long runs. His 51-yard run in the first quarter of last year's playoff game was the longest gain of that contest. With the Browns, Motley is playing under a former coach for the second time. Is not only a hard-hitting runner, but a very fine line backer. Is married, and the father of three boys, Philip, Ronald and Raymond. Played professional basketball this past winter. Maintains his home in Cleveland.

PARSEGHIAN, ARA — HALFBACK

Born in Akron, Ohio May 21, 1923. Won letters in four sports—football, basketball, baseball, golf—at Akron South High School, being chosen on the All-City football team. Was inducted into the Navy soon after high school graduation and couldn't enter college until 1946 following release from the Navy. Played briefly at Great Lakes under Paul Brown in 1945. Starred for Miami University (Oxford, O.) in 1946 and 1947, being chosen on the All-Ohio team each year. Sparked Miami to a perfect record last year. Spearheaded their attack against Texas Tech in the 1948 Sun Bowl game before being benched by a dislocated shoulder. Played on the Miami basketball and baseball teams also. Plans to work for his degree during the off-season and looks forward to a coaching career at the conclusion of his pro football days. Is single and makes his home in Akron.

PRCHLIK, JOHN (Perch) — TACKLE

Born in Cleveland, Ohio July 20, 1925. At West Tech High School in Cleveland he starred at tackle on the football team and participated in the weight events for the track squad. Alternated between guard and tackle positions at Yale where he won four football letters. Also earned crew and wrestling letters at Yale. Served as an ensign in the Navy aboard an aircraft carrier. Got his greatest football thrill in the traditional Yale-Harvard game of 1946 when the Eli, 14 points behind in the first period, staged a game rally to take a 27-14 decision. Was the outstanding lineman on the field in the annual East-West game at San Francisco last New Year's Day. Although Prchlik played at guard most of his last two years at Yale, Paul Brown intends to start him out as a tackle. Spurned an attractive offer from the Boston Yanks of the National League to play pro football in his home town. Is single and lives in Cleveland.

PUCCI, BEN — TACKLE

Born in St. Louis, Mo. January 26, 1925. Acquired in 1948 by Cleveland from Chicago Rockets in deal that sent Roman Piskor and draftee John Rapacz to Chicago. Played with Buffalo in 1946 and was sent to Chicago last year. Played high school football in St. Louis but never attended college. Had some football experience while in the Army and played in 1944 with the Hollywood Rangers of the Pacific Coast League. Is single and lives in St. Louis.

RICKARDS, PAUL — QUARTERBACK

Born June 30, 1926 in Wheeling, West Va. Was chosen on the All-State football and basketball teams at Wheeling High School in 1942 and 1943. Was selected class president for four straight years in high school. Played under Coach Clark Shaughnessy at the University of Pittsburgh in 1944 prior to entering the Army. Returned to Pitt last year and performed very well as a passer. Is married and resides in Wheeling.

RYMKUS, LOU — TACKLE

Born November 6, 1919 in Royalton, Illinois. Starred at tackle for Tilden Tech High School in Chicago for four years, winning All-City honors three years plus All-State and most valuable player award in 1938. Was shotput ace and copped city heavyweight wrestling crown in 1939. Received All-America mention at Notre Dame where he played under Elmer Layden and Frank Leahy. In 1942, was named most valuable player on Irish squad. Played tackle for Washington Redskins in 1943. Was chosen on all-pro second team in his first year in National League. Entered Navy in March, 1944, as athletic instructor and served until early in 1946. Stationed nine months at Pearl Harbor after playing on undefeated Bainbridge Naval Training Station team in 1944.

Is considered one of the greatest offensive tackles in football, and has been a mainstay of the right side of the Cleveland forward wall for two years. Was chosen as one of the tackles on the official All-Conference team in 1947. Plans to become a coach or a baseball umpire after his football career is ended. For the past two summers he has umpired in Max Carey's All American Girls' Professional Baseball League. In the off-season he and Captain Lou Saban of the Browns operate an auto rental agency. Recently purchased a home in Parma Heights, suburb of Cleveland, where he lives with wife and twin boys, Pat and Mike.

SABAN, LOU — CENTER

Born in Brookfield, Illinois October 13, 1921. Saban has been winning "Most Valuable Player" awards since his high school days at La Grange, Ill. There he was an outstanding player, being chosen on the All-Conference and All-State teams. At Indiana University under Bo McMillin in 1941 and 1942, he was a blocking quarterback and a vicious line backer. In 1942 was selected as the most valuable individual on the Hoosiers' squad; also captained the team. Was star performer on Indiana track team, winning Big Ten championships in the shotput and discus. Started for College All-Stars against Chicago Bears in 1944 and almost sparked team to upset victory over pros. Scored one touchdown, place kicked three points after touchdown and backed up the line in sensational fashion. Played with All-Stars against Los Angeles Rams in 1946.

Entered the Army in 1943 and attained the rank of first lieutenant at the time of his discharge just before the 1946 football season.

Was utilized as interpreter in China. Has been used solely as a defensive specialist by the Browns the past two years. Is considered to be the finest line backer in football and his defensive skill has made him one of the most valuable players on the Browns. He has the ability to diagnose plays and to be at the point of action at the right time. Is very popular with his teammates and was chosen captain of the team after the 1946 season. Came through with some very accurate place kicking when Lou Groza was benched by an injury during the latter part of the 1947 season. Kicked ten out of 11 attempts for extra points.

Saban was married in 1947 and now makes his home in Cleveland. His wife is a former United Airlines stewardess whom he met on the Browns' 1946 trip to the West Coast. Since the past football season he has carried a double load by operating an auto rental agency in conjunction with teammate Lou Rymkus, and has also carried a full schedule at Baldwin-Wallace College in Berea where he is attempting to complete his college degree.

SAYLOR, HORACE (Tod) — END

Born in Allentown, Pa. October 21, 1921. Played football, basketball and baseball at Bethlehem (Pa.) High School and then had two years of competition in same three sports at Blair (N. J.) Academy. At Lafayette College, Saylor earned four football letters under Coach Ivan Williamson. Also played varsity basketball and baseball for two seasons. Received his greatest sports thrill last fall when he caught pass for winning touchdown in Lafayette's annual battle with neighboring Lehigh in Saylor's home town. Father was grid star at Moravian College and has been prominent sports official and coach for 20 years. Saylor is married and has one son, John Michael. Now lives in Easton, Pa.

SENSANBAUGHER, DEAN — HALFBACK

Born in Midvale, Ohio August 12, 1925. Won 12 letters in football, basketball and track at Uhrichsville (O.) High School. Played as a freshman on the Ohio State varsity under Paul Brown in 1943, his outstanding feat being a 96 yard run against a vastly superior Great Lakes club. Played for the East against the West in the annual New Year's Day battle at San Francisco in 1944 and was the individual star of that contest that wound up in a 13-13 tie. Early in 1944, Sensanbaugher was appointed to the U. S. Military Academy. Played with the 1944 Army eleven that was unbeaten. Entered the Army in April, 1945 and was discharged 18 months later. Returned to Ohio State but was handicapped during the 1947 season by an injury. Considers Uhrichsville his home but is finishing up his education at Ohio State in the off-season. Is married.

SIMONETTI, LEONARD (Meatball) — TACKLE

Born on a farm near New Philadelphia, Ohio November 20, 1920. Was chosen All-State fullback for New Philadelphia High School. His coach was John L. Brickels, present backfield mentor of the Browns. Enrolled at the University of Tennessee and was transferred from the fullback position which he had played in high school to a tackle berth. Played with the Volunteers in the Sugar Bowl game of 1941 when they lost a thrilling 19 to 13 decision to Boston College. Served in the Army three years and saw service in the South Pacific.

Has played defensive right tackle for the Browns during the past two years. Had been on the inactive list most of the 1946 season, but was reinstated prior to the championship game against the Yankees, and came through with a good defensive job. Was married early this year, and is now living in Roswell, Ohio.

SMITH, WILLIAM G. (Earthquake) — TACKLE

Born in Lexington, N. C. October 23, 1926. Made the All-State honor eleven twice at Lexington High School. Played two seasons under Carl Snavely at the University of North Carolina in 1944 and 1947. Was Cleveland's fourth choice in the 1948 player draft and was also one of the Chicago Cardinals' early draftees. Is being counted on to fill the void left by the decision of the Conference to send Ernie Blandin, Cleveland's first string left tackle in 1947, to the Baltimore Colts in an effort to strengthen the latter Club. At 260 pounds, he is one of the biggest players the Browns ever have taken to training camp. Spent 15 months in the Army Air Force in 1945-1946. Plans to return to North Carolina after the football season to complete his schooling in preparation for a coaching career. Is single and resides in Lexington.

SMITH, WILLIAM J. (Jay) — END

Born January 23, 1920 in Brookhaven, Miss. Was one of three players sent to the Browns by Brooklyn in exchange for the draft rights to Bob Chappuis. Won four football letters at Mississippi-Southern College in between more than four years of military service. Was selected on the Little All-America team for two seasons. Also played on his college basketball team for four years. Was stationed at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941 when the Japs attacked. Is married and has a daughter, Janeane. Resides in Waynesboro, Miss.

SPEEDIE, MAC (Speed) — END

Born in Odell, Illinois January 12, 1920. All-City back in 1937 at South High School in Salt Lake City, Utah. Also won All-City honors as cage center. Played end for three seasons at University of Utah where he was selected on the All-Rocky Mountain Conference team. Set conference mark in 220 yard low hurdles which he ran in 23.2. Also is co-holder of 120 yard high hurdles mark of 14.4 seconds. Entered Army in March, 1942 and was discharged as first lieutenant in June, 1946. Served in reconditioning work in the medical corps. Participated in football, basketball and track in the Army. Was "discovered" in 1945 by Paul Brown when the latter's Great Lakes team met Ft. Warren with whom Speedie was playing. Great Lakes had no trouble with the soldiers . . . except Speedie.

Recommended by Ft. Warren coach, Speedie was watched throughout game by Brown. Bluejackets tried everything against Mac but couldn't get by him.

With the Browns, Speedie has developed into one of the outstanding pass receivers in the history of pro football. Teamed up with Dante Lavelli, the combination is probably the most formidable set of offensive ends in the history of the game. His two-year record follows:

	Passes Received	Yardage Gained	Touchdown Passes
1946	24	564	7
1947	67	1146	6
TOTAL	91	1710	13

Mac has the distinction of scoring the first touchdown in the All-America Conference when he took a pass from Cliff Lewis in the early minutes of Cleveland's opener against Miami in 1946. Holds record for the longest gain in the All-America Conference on a pass play when he took a screen pass from Otto Graham on his goal line and ran the length of the field. It is recorded as a 99-yard gain since Cleveland had the ball on its own one-yard line at the time, although Speedie actually caught the ball just behind the goal line. Was chosen on the All-Conference team last year. Is also a good punter, although he has not practiced that specialty with the Browns. Is married, has a son, Mike, and lives in Mayfield Heights, a Cleveland suburb, where he has purchased his home.

SUSTERSIC, EDWARD (Foozy) — FULLBACK

Born in Cleveland, Ohio Jan. 7, 1922. Played fullback on football team at John Marshall High School and was city scholastic heavyweight wrestling champion in 1941. Served in the Army Air Corps for three and a half years. After discharge returned to Findlay College where he had enrolled after high school graduation. Captained the football and wrestling teams at Findlay during his final two years there. Was awarded the Jack Dempsey trophy as the outstanding athlete at Findlay in 1947. Is single and resides in Cleveland.

ULINSKI, EDWARD F. (Ulie) — GUARD

Born in Pittsburgh December 7, 1920. Played tackle on Ambridge, (Pa.) High School team three years, serving as captain in senior year. Won All-County honors in both 1936 and 1937. Also played varsity guard on the school's cage team. Starred at three positions in trio of years on varsity at Marshall College in Huntington, W. Va., Though he shifted from end to blocking back to guard, Ed was named to the mythical All-State team in 1940, and again in 1941, gaining Little All-America mention in the last year. Entered service May 7, 1942, terminating Army career exactly four years to the day, May 7, 1946, as a captain in the Army Air Forces. Played with Glenn Dobbs on Second Air Force team in 1944 and with Fourth Air Force eleven in 1945. Served six months in West Indies, during which time his B-29 made a forced landing in Cuba. In his two seasons with the Browns he has proved to be a very valuable offensive performer whose great blocking opened many a hole for Motley, Jones & Co. Although his home is in Ambridge, Pa., Ulinski now spends the off season in Cleveland. He is single.

WILLIS, BILL (Deacon) — GUARD

Born in Columbus, Ohio October 5, 1921. Competed in football, basketball and track in high school, winning All-Conference honors in football in 1940. Played at Ohio State from 1942 through 1944 including Paul Brown's Western Conference and national championship eleven of 1942. Was selected All-Big Ten Tackle in 1943 and 1944 and made most of the All-America honor elevens in 1944. Won two track letters at Ohio State, running the 60 and 100 yard dash events. Comes from athletic family, brother Claude having been football, basketball and track star. Coached Kentucky State College football team in 1945 but decided to have his trial with the professional gridders before he resumed coaching career.

With the Browns, Willis has been an outstanding lineman whose fine play has earned him a position on the All-Conference team the past two seasons. He is one of the fastest charging linemen in football. Has a great sense of humor and has an endless store of anecdotes about his season of coaching. Is married, and makes his home in Columbus. In the off season he studied for his Master's Degree at Ohio State University, and also wrote a sports column for a weekly newspaper in Columbus.

YONAKOR, JOHN (Jumbo) — END

Born in Boston, Mass. August 4, 1921. "Jumbo" climaxed a long, uphill fight in 1943 when his pass-catching prowess and defensive tactics with Notre Dame snared him a place on most of the All-America selections. Just 11 years before, doctors had feared Yonakor would never walk again as the result of a serious leg infection, but plenty of exercise and determination enabled the boy to overcome his ailment. Scored Notre Dame's first two touchdowns on passes from Johnny Lujack when the Irish whipped Army, 26 to 9, in 1943.

Started for the College All-Stars against the Chicago Bears in 1944 and played with Collegians against Los Angeles Rams in 1946. Enlisted in the Marines June 6, 1942, and was called to active duty 13 months later. Discharged May, 1946. Served in the Southwest Pacific. Played football for Camp LeJeune Marines in 1944 and with the Marine All-Stars who opposed an all star Army unit at Hawaii in 1945. Co-captained the Notre Dame track team in 1943. Won the National A.A.U. shotput championship (indoors) in 1944 and was victorious in the Hawaiian A.A.U. meet the next season.

After a slow start with the Browns in 1946, Yonakor came along rapidly toward the end of the season, and he was the outstanding defensive performer in the championship play off against the New York Yankees that year. In 1947 he was the regular defensive right end for the Browns, and continued to halt enemy runners with a regularity that made him one of the most valued defensive workmen in the league. Is single, and makes his home in Dorchester, Massachusetts. Spent the past two off seasons studying at Notre Dame finishing up work on his degree.

YOUNG, GEORGE (Pordy) — END

Born in Wilkes Barre, Pennsylvania May 10, 1924. After starring in football and track and winning the Pennsylvania state high school heavyweight wrestling crown, Young played football for the University of Georgia. Entered the Navy in 1943. Played football for Paul Bown at Great Lakes in 1944 and in 1945 was a member of the Fleet City Bluejacket eleven which won the national service title.

With the Browns, Young has been a good defensive wingman. He missed much of the training activities last year because of a severely sprained ankle on the opening day at camp, but he came back strongly, and by the middle of the same season he was the team's regular defensive left end. During the off season he is studying at Baldwin-Wallace College in Berea where he hopes to obtain his degree. Is married and lives in Cleveland.
